SpinWizRoulette Terms of Service

Revised 12 November 2026. Effective date: 14 November 2026.

These Terms explain paid SpinWizRoulette access, how it is supplied, and your rights and responsibilities. Monthly subscriptions and any separately offered fixed-period purchase are distinguished below. They apply to purchases made after their effective date.

1 Seller and contact details

The seller and software licensor is an individual in Sweden using the project and trading name SpinWizLab. SpinWizLab is not a separate legal entity. The same individual is the controller described in the Privacy Policy.

- Location: Stockholm, Sweden.
- Email: info@spinwizlab.com.
- Website: https://www.spinwizlab.com.

In these Terms, "we", "us" and "our" mean this seller. "You" means the subscriber. A consumer is an individual buying mainly for purposes outside their trade or profession.

2 Your agreement and checkout

Your agreement includes these Terms, the SpinWizRoulette Refund and Cancellation Policy, the End User License Agreement, and the specific product description and purchase details provided before you pay. The Privacy Policy explains personal data processing separately; accepting these Terms is not consent to optional diagnostics or marketing.

Mandatory law takes priority. Specific product commitments and purchase terms agreed before you pay take priority over inconsistent general wording here. Your purchase confirmation records the agreement; it does not unilaterally change it. The Refund and Cancellation Policy governs refunds and cancellation; the End User License Agreement governs software use, subject to these Terms and your mandatory rights.

Whop provides checkout, recurring billing and payment-processing services for monthly subscriptions. Where a separate fixed-period crypto purchase is offered, NOWPayments provides that checkout and payment processing. We supply and license SpinWizRoulette. The selected provider also applies its own terms and privacy information; using it does not make it the developer or licensor of our software. Provider and payment-network dispute procedures remain subject to their applicable rules and the law.

The paid agreement begins when your order is accepted and confirmed. The fixed crypto access period starts when the completed payment has been verified and access granted, as recorded in your account. Keep your purchase confirmation and the policy versions supplied with it. We provide confirmation in a form you can retain, such as email. A declined or incomplete payment does not by itself create paid access.

3 Eligibility and lawful use

You must be at least 18 and meet any higher applicable age requirement. You must be legally able to enter this agreement and use the product in your location. Provide accurate account and billing information and use a payment method you are authorized to use.

SpinWizRoulette is intended for lawful analysis, simulation and supported optional betting workflows. You must follow applicable laws and the rules of any casino, table, feed or other third-party service you choose to use. A subscription does not authorize conduct prohibited by those services or your local law. Do not use it to evade self-exclusion, age controls, account restrictions, access controls or other safeguards.

4 What the subscription provides

SpinWizRoulette is Windows desktop software for roulette session and spin-history analysis, statistics, charts, strategy building, backtesting, simulation and a customizable workspace. Guided Betting and Automatic Betting are optional features where supported and described in the current product documentation. The listing provided before purchase identifies the included features and material limitations.

Supported feeds, tables, rule variants and automation layouts vary. Support for one does not imply support for all. Experimental features are identified as such. The product evolves: the subscription does not freeze a particular interface, implementation or version, and changes to included functionality are governed by section 11. Roadmap items, custom development and future features are not included promises unless expressly agreed.

We supply updates and installation information required by law during the applicable supply period. This does not promise an unlimited upgrade schedule. Updates may require manual download and installation.

Certain optional skins or themes may require you to complete specified actions, as explained in the app or on our website.

5 Technical requirements and delivery

The desktop app requires Windows 10 or Windows 11 capable of running x64 applications, suitable installation permissions, and an internet connection for activation and continuing license checks. See the current user guide at https://www.spinwizlab.com/docs for compatibility and setup instructions. Any additional material requirement for a purchased feature must be disclosed before payment.

A SpinWizLab account and a valid, unexpired license are required. For a Whop purchase, connect the Whop account used for that purchase so its membership can be matched to your SpinWizLab account. The separate crypto route does not require a Whop account. We provide download and activation instructions without undue delay after payment is confirmed, unless a different delivery time was clearly agreed before purchase. If you cannot obtain access, contact us with your order reference. Downloading an installer alone does not activate a subscription. We will not make a paid subscription depend on an undisclosed beta role or separate purchase.

The current app validates a saved license online at startup and periodically while running. If it cannot confirm valid access, it can lock the workspace and stop feeds, strategies and betting execution. Saved credentials do not guarantee offline startup. Manual spin entry and simulations do not remove this internet requirement. A license-service outage can therefore affect app availability and is covered by the remedies described in the Refund and Cancellation Policy.

6 Price and monthly renewal

The Whop subscription is USD 39 per month and renews automatically until cancelled. Where offered, the separate NOWPayments option is USD 39 for 30 days of access, with no automatic renewal; another payment requires a new order. The checkout identifies the offer you select. Tax treatment: USD 39 is the base price before applicable taxes. Consumer-facing prices and checkout must show the legally required total, including applicable taxes and mandatory charges, before you place a paid order. The final listing, checkout and these Terms must be consistent.

For crypto, follow the invoice currency, network, amount and payment deadline. Access is not supplied merely because a transaction was sent or a browser returned to our website; the provider must confirm completed payment and the required amount. Pending or insufficient payments do not unlock access. Contact info@spinwizlab.com with your order reference and transaction reference about an underpayment, late payment, expired invoice, wrong asset or network, or another payment error before paying again. We check the order, the provider's status and any funds received, then explain the available reconciliation or repayment steps. Do not send an additional payment until the correct invoice and instructions are confirmed. Recovery of funds sent to an unsupported address, asset or network is not guaranteed. Completed payments received by us are refunded manually under the Refund and Cancellation Policy, including its agreed ETH-refund process and protections for legally due repayments. Network fees and any exchange costs must be disclosed as applicable. Payment-error handling does not remove mandatory remedies or extend a statutory refund deadline.

The Whop subscription renews automatically each month until cancelled. Your confirmation and Whop subscription record show the billing schedule, currency and next renewal date. There is no annual commitment under this monthly offer and no free trial unless explicitly offered in your individual checkout. Currency-conversion charges imposed by your bank or payment provider are outside our subscription price and should be disclosed by that provider.

For the Whop subscription, you authorize the recurring charges shown when you subscribe. Failed payments may be retried under the disclosed billing process. Access may pause when the paid entitlement has expired or is otherwise no longer valid. A cancellation request received before a renewal takes effect must stop that renewal; a billing error can be reported and corrected.

7 Cancellation and refunds

Cancel future renewals through your Whop subscription controls or by emailing info@spinwizlab.com with enough information to identify your subscription. A clear request is sufficient; no reason is required.

Ordinary cancellation stops the next Whop renewal and preserves access until the paid period ends, without automatically refunding that period. A fixed 30-day crypto purchase expires without a further charge and needs no cancellation to stop renewal. It does not itself cancel a separate Whop subscription. Withdrawal and termination for a fault, delay or qualifying service change are separate rights for either purchase route.

Refunds are provided where required by law or expressly promised in your purchase terms. No voluntary money-back guarantee, uptime credit or general satisfaction guarantee is offered. See the Refund and Cancellation Policy. Downloading or activating the app does not by itself waive statutory withdrawal rights.

8 Account and license responsibilities

Keep account credentials and license keys confidential. Do not sell, rent, sublicense or publicly share your subscription. Notify us if you reasonably believe it has been compromised. You are not automatically responsible for unauthorized use outside your control.

Each license permits activation for one Windows user account on one computer at a time. Using the same key from another computer or Windows user is blocked. To replace or reinstall your computer or change Windows user, contact info@spinwizlab.com for an account-ownership check and reviewed transfer. An approved transfer provides a replacement key and invalidates the old key; the old app loses access on its subsequent checks. Logging out, uninstalling or deleting local files does not release the activation. This rule must be disclosed before purchase and is not retrospectively imposed on an earlier paid period that promised different rights.

Keep backups of your local histories, strategies, triggers, calibration profiles and settings. Local files are not a guaranteed cloud backup. Export any data you wish to keep while your license is active; the workspace may be locked after expiry. Statutory rights to obtain qualifying personal or user-provided content remain unaffected.

9 Roulette risk and optional betting functions

Roulette involves financial risk. Recorded frequencies, wheel statistics, backtests and simulations describe data or model assumptions; they do not establish that future spins will follow the same pattern. No strategy, subscription or feature guarantees profit or removes the house edge. Examples and simulated balances are not earnings promises.

Use Automatic Betting only where the casino operator permits automated betting for your account and table. Check and follow its current terms, policies and permission conditions. If permission is unclear, obtain the operator's confirmation before enabling it. Stop if automation is prohibited or permission is withdrawn. Do not use the software to bypass automation bans, account restrictions or other safeguards. A supported or technically compatible casino or table does not mean its operator has authorized or endorsed SpinWizRoulette.

Guided Betting provides instructions while you perform the clicks. Automatic Betting, when expressly enabled for a session, can move the Windows pointer and generate mouse input. Calibration, chip values, table layout, screen state and timing matter. Software cannot guarantee that a casino accepted the intended bet, amount or cancellation. Check the table and remain able to stop the session. Stopping the app cannot reverse bets already placed.

Do not use money you cannot afford to lose. We do not accept gambling deposits, hold your casino bankroll or operate the underlying casino. Section 13 governs responsibility.

10 Bugs, spin-history data, maintenance and support

Contact info@spinwizlab.com for support or complaints. Provide reasonably necessary troubleshooting information about the issue and your setup; optional telemetry is not required. Do not send passwords or full license keys. No fixed support-response time, resolution deadline or uptime percentage is promised, except as expressly agreed or required by law.

Bugs, crashes, compatibility issues and temporary interruptions can occur. We may temporarily suspend affected functions for maintenance, updates, repairs or security work. Notice will be provided where required by law. Beta status and these disclosures do not waive mandatory standards for the paid service.

Live feeds and server-supplied spin history depend on networks, collection systems and upstream sources. Data may be delayed, incomplete, duplicated, out of order, corrected later or unavailable. Recovery of every missing spin and an exhaustive permanent archive for every table are not promised unless expressly included in your purchase terms.

Data gaps and corrections can affect statistics, triggers, backtests, simulations and betting workflows. Check the available history and connection state, and pause optional betting when data or table state is uncertain. The app is not the authoritative record of a casino's accepted bets or settlements. Faults are handled under the Refund and Cancellation Policy; changes and discontinuation are governed by sections 11 and 12.

11 Changes to the service and price

We may update, redesign, replace, combine or discontinue features, integrations or supported versions for these reasons:

- To address defects, security risks, compatibility or legal requirements.
- To respond to changes in third-party interfaces, data access or provider availability.
- To improve reliability, usability or maintainability by replacing or consolidating overlapping functions.
- To retire obsolete or low-use components where continued maintenance creates a disproportionate technical burden or recurring reliability problems.

Changes must be lawful and reasonable for the stated reason. Changes to the ongoing service beyond those needed to maintain conformity are made without additional cost and with clear information. Routine changes may be described in release notes or in-app notices; they do not require individual approval unless the law requires it. A change of interface, implementation or a replacement performing substantially the same function does not by itself create a right to a refund or termination. Its actual effect on your access and use remains relevant.

If a change negatively affects your access or use by more than a minor amount, we provide notice reasonably in advance in a form you can retain, such as email, describing the change, timing and your rights. You may terminate with immediate effect and without cost within 30 days after receiving the notice or implementation, whichever is later, unless we enable you to retain the unchanged, conforming service without extra cost. Refunds required by law apply. This section does not require us to preserve every existing feature indefinitely.

A price increase applies only to a future renewal, after advance notice of the new price and effective date and a reasonable opportunity to cancel before it applies. Any longer legally required notice or required consent will be respected. Posting revised Terms does not retrospectively change accrued rights or earlier paid periods.

12 Suspension and ending access

We may restrict access when a paid entitlement expires, or where reasonably necessary to address fraud, a serious security risk, unlawful use or a material breach. Where feasible and appropriate, we will explain the reason and give a reasonable opportunity to correct the issue before suspension. Contact us to request review of an erroneous access decision.

If we discontinue a paid service or end your agreement for reasons not attributable to your breach, we will stop future charges and refund the unused prepaid period, together with any further remedy required by law. Legitimate suspension does not erase accrued refund or consumer rights. Ending access does not authorize us to remove your unrelated local files.

13 Responsibility and consumer protections

We do not guarantee gambling outcomes, insure betting losses or promise indefinite third-party availability. Responsibility for delivery, defects, updates and recoverable loss is governed by the agreement and applicable law. Nothing in these Terms excludes mandatory consumer rights or liability that cannot lawfully be excluded.

14 Contact and complaints

For questions or complaints, email info@spinwizlab.com with a description of the issue and your order reference, if available. If you disagree with our response, reply to the same address and request a review.

Further complaint options are described in section 7 of the Refund and Cancellation Policy. Mandatory consumer rights and access to lawful dispute-resolution procedures or competent courts remain unaffected.

If a provision is unenforceable, the remaining provisions continue to apply to the extent lawful.
