SpinWizRoulette End User License Agreement

Revised 12 November 2026. Effective date: 14 November 2026.

This End User License Agreement, or EULA, explains permission to install and use SpinWizRoulette. It forms part of your paid access agreement with the individual trading as SpinWizLab in Sweden, described in section 1 of the accompanying Terms of Service, whether supplied through a monthly subscription or a separately offered fixed-period purchase. SpinWizLab is not a separate incorporated company.

Contact: info@spinwizlab.com. Location: Stockholm, Sweden.

The Terms of Service explain purchase, renewal, support and disputes. The Refund and Cancellation Policy explains cancellation and refunds. The Privacy Policy describes data handling. Mandatory consumer protections and applicable third-party open-source license rights take priority over conflicting wording in this EULA.

1 License grant and duration

For the duration of your valid paid access, we grant the named subscriber a limited, non-exclusive license to install and use the supplied SpinWizRoulette desktop software for its documented purposes. You purchase access and permission to use the software, not ownership of its copyright or an indefinite license.

Each license permits activation for one Windows user account on one computer at a time. Activation on a second computer or Windows user is blocked. To move or restore an activation, contact info@spinwizlab.com for ownership verification and a reviewed transfer. An approved transfer supplies a replacement license key and invalidates the old one; loss of old-device access takes effect through subsequent checks. Logging out, uninstalling or deleting local files does not release the server activation. This limit must be disclosed before purchase and does not retrospectively reduce different rights expressly agreed for an earlier paid period.

The license continues through the end of the paid period after ordinary cancellation, unless a lawful earlier withdrawal, termination or suspension applies. Whop subscription renewals are governed by the Terms of Service. A separate crypto purchase, where offered, lasts 30 days from verified completed payment and the grant of access, without automatic renewal. It does not cancel any separate subscription. You may retain an installer or backup copy, but keeping that copy does not permit unlicensed use after access expires. Any non-waivable rights to make necessary backup copies or use otherwise lawfully acquired software remain unaffected.

2 Installation, activation and continuing validation

Use the official download source and installation instructions. The app requires Windows 10 or 11 with x64 capability, an account, a valid license and internet connectivity for startup and periodic license checks. Installation and updates may be manual; offline activation and an automatic updater are not promised.

Validation failure, expiry or revocation may lock the workspace and stop feeds, strategies and betting execution. Erroneous blocking of valid paid access is handled under the Refund and Cancellation Policy.

Keep activation credentials private and protect your device. Changes to license conditions are governed by the Terms; personal-data processing is described in the Privacy Policy.

3 Permitted analysis and configuration

Use the included tools in accordance with the documentation and agreement. You may create, save and export your strategies, triggers, layouts and supported datasets using provided functions. Templates and examples do not guarantee commercial results.

Your original content remains yours, subject to underlying software and third-party rights. Local storage grants us no ownership. Material you send to support may be used as necessary to handle your request under the Privacy Policy; no general advertising or resale license is granted.

4 Restrictions and statutory exceptions

Unless permitted by us or by applicable law, you may not:

- Distribute, sell, rent, sublicense or publicly share the app, a paid license key, or access to your account.
- Bypass activation, expiry, payment, cosmetic-unlock or security controls, or interfere with the license service.
- Remove copyright, trademark or third-party license notices, or falsely present the software as your own work.
- Modify, decompile, disassemble or reverse engineer protected software except to the extent an applicable law or a component's license expressly permits it.
- Use the product to obtain unauthorized access, unlawfully capture credentials or data, disrupt a service, or evade casino, account, legal or age restrictions.

These restrictions do not remove rights that cannot lawfully be restricted, including applicable rights concerning interoperability, observation or testing, necessary error correction, backup copies, or third-party open-source software. They must be read subject to those exceptions rather than as an absolute prohibition.

5 Third-party software, results and services

Third-party components remain subject to their own notices and licenses, which prevail for that component where they grant additional rights. Table names, data and casino interfaces do not imply endorsement or grant you third-party access rights. Obtain any account, permission and lawful access needed to use those services.

Feed, table and layout compatibility varies and can be affected by upstream changes. Live results and server history may be delayed, incomplete, duplicated, corrected or unavailable; not every missing spin can be recovered. An exhaustive permanent archive is not promised unless expressly included. Check available data and pause optional betting if data or table state is uncertain. Service limitations and changes are governed by sections 10 and 11 of the Terms.

6 Optional betting and screen interaction

Use Automatic Betting only where the casino operator permits automated betting for your account and table. Check and follow its current terms, policies and permission conditions. If permission is unclear, obtain the operator's confirmation before enabling it. Stop if automation is prohibited or permission is withdrawn. Do not use the software to bypass automation bans, account restrictions or other safeguards. A supported or technically compatible casino or table does not mean its operator has authorized or endorsed SpinWizRoulette.

Guided Betting supplies instructions while you click. Automatic Betting can move the pointer and generate clicks when expressly enabled for the session. Calibration and safety checks may process selected screen regions locally, as explained in the Privacy Policy.

Confirm the table, layout, chip values, strategy, limits and timing before enabling automatic input. Remain in control and stop if the state is uncertain. Interface changes, obstructing windows and delays can cause unintended input. An app confirmation does not prove the casino accepted the intended bet. Stopping cannot reverse a placed bet.

7 No prediction or earnings promise

SpinWizRoulette is an analysis and strategy-testing tool. Random outcomes, house advantage, payout rules, sample size and model assumptions affect results. Historical patterns and successful backtests do not guarantee future performance. Simulated profits are not evidence of expected earnings. The subscription does not provide a guaranteed winning system or insure your betting losses.

8 Updates and changes

Bugs and temporary interruptions may affect the app, validation, feeds or history. Maintenance and support are governed by section 10 of the Terms; no additional uptime or support guarantee is created here.

The license covers an evolving product, not a frozen feature set or indefinite support for a particular implementation. Features may be updated, replaced, combined or retired for the reasons and under the safeguards in section 11 of the Terms. Routine changes do not require individual approval unless required by law.

We supply updates required by law. Install necessary updates within a reasonable time after receiving instructions and notice of the consequences of not installing them. Any limitation of responsibility for a missed update depends on applicable law. Changes to personal-data processing remain subject to the Privacy Policy and any required notice or consent.

9 Your data and the end of a session

Strategies, histories, profiles and settings are primarily local. Keep backups and export while access remains active; license expiry may lock the app interface. Ending access does not transfer ownership of your files or authorize deletion of unrelated local data. Statutory data and content retrieval rights remain available. Account deletion does not necessarily delete local backups or third-party records.

10 Breach, suspension and termination

Suspension and termination for material breach, unlawful use, fraud or serious security risks are governed by the Terms. When the license ends, stop using functions requiring paid access. Ownership, accrued rights and lawful redistribution restrictions survive. Unused prepaid access and statutory remedies are handled under the Terms and Refund and Cancellation Policy.

11 Conformity, responsibility and disputes

Contact info@spinwizlab.com for support or complaints. The Terms and Refund and Cancellation Policy explain complaint handling and remedies. Mandatory consumer rights and liability that cannot lawfully be excluded remain unaffected.
